At the Georgia Tech Invitational, the Crimson Tide men led off the meet by winning the 200 freestyle relay when junior Zane Waddell, senior Laurent Bams, sophomore Sam DiSette and senior Robert Howard combined to clock a 1:17.10. Waddell opened with a race-best 19.25 leadoff split, while Howard brought it home with an 18.67, giving him the only 50 split under 19 seconds in the meet. Howard and Waddell would go on to take first and second in the 50 freestyle later in the night. Howard clocked a 19.23 for the win, with Waddell just behind at 19.27. The two men posted season-best times in the 50 during finals, giving them the top-two times in the nation this season. Senior Justine Macfarlane picked up an individual win when she clocked a 1:00.28 to take first in the 100 breaststroke. Freshman Kensey McMahon opened the final night of the Georgia Tech Invitational by shattering the school record in the 1,650 freestyle on the way to the win. McMahon posted a 15:59.46 en route to becoming the first UA woman under 16 minutes in the mile. Howard dipped under 42 seconds in the 100 freestyle to clock a 41.94 for the victory. He outraced the field by more than half a second. With that time, Howard is now ranked No. 1 nationally in the 50 and 100 freestyles. Howard then closed the meet with a 41.09 relay split to anchor the Tide's 400 freestyle relay to a win. The senior joined with Waddell, Bams and DiSette to stop the clock at 2:50.41.

» Arkansas

At the USA Swimming Winter Nationals, junior Anna Hopkin set an Arkansas long course record while freshman Kobie Melton was the first Razorback of the season to qualify for the Olympic Trials in June. Melton's B Final time of 25.78 earned her a second-place finish and a spot at the Olympic Trials in Omaha, Neb. next June, while Hopkin's third-place finish (24.93) in the A Finals broke the school record in the long course 50 freestyle she set earlier in the day. Senior Madison Strathman earned a 10th place finish with a time of 1:10.79 in the preliminaries, before placing third in the B Finals (1:10.67) and qualifying for the Olympic Trials next summer with a lifetime best time. The Razorbacks will return to the pool on Dec. 16 at the World University Games Diving Qualifier in Atlanta, Ga.

Ball collected an individual event win, as she won the 100 Back A Final in 52.43. The divers will participate at the three-day Auburn Invite starting on Monday, Dec. 17.

» Georgia

At the 2018 Georgia Fall Invitational for the University of Georgia swimming and diving teams, the Lady Bulldogs finished second with the Bulldogs third at Gabrielsen Natatorium. The Georgia women finished in second with 835 points behind Michigan with 944. The Georgia men finished third with 795.5 points behind California in first and Michigan in second. Sophomore Camden Murphy highlighted Friday's prelims with a record-setting 100 butterfly race. At 45.47 seconds, he topped Pace Clark's 45.66, set at the NCAA Championships in 2016. In the night session, Murphy also added a first-place finish. Veronica Burchill replaced her own second-place time in the 100-yard butterfly Georgia all-time performances with a 51.35 mark. Her previous mark was set at the 2018 NCAA Championships at 51.48. She finished second overall in the race on Friday. A first-place finish in the 200-yard butterfly from freshman Dakota Luther highlighted the final day. The freshman inserted herself into the all-time Georgia record books at the fifth spot, trailing Mary DeScenza by just .04 seconds. She was joined by junior Javier Acevedo, who paced the Bulldog backstrokers with a second-place finish of 1:39.88 in the 200 backstroke, the second-best time in school history just .82 behind his own school record set at the 2018 SEC Championships in February. Junior diver Freida Lim headlined the platform diving, taking first-place with 263 points in the final. The Georgia divers return to action at Gabrielsen for the Diving Invitational from Jan. 4-6.

» Kentucky

Two rewarding meets capped the fall term for the Kentucky swimming and diving program, after five divers met a 10-team field at the Miami Invitational hosted by Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and three swimmers competed in the USA Swimming Winter Nationals in Greensboro, North Carolina. Senior Kailey Francetic, freshman Kyndal Knight, sophomore Cara Hudson, sophomore Chase Lane and senior Seb Masterton made the trip north to conclude the fall diving schedule at the 25th annual Miami Invitational, closing the meet with a sweep on the springboard. Knight scored a 304.50 on the 1-meter board for the first-place crown, while Masterton's came on the 3-meter board with a 421.20. Knight and Masterton saved the best for last, earning the only victorious finishes by Wildcats in the meet. Kentucky faced an elite international field, which included hosts Miami (OH), Ball State, California-Davis, Cincinnati, France Diving, Guangdong, IUPUI, Tiffin and Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Three Kentucky divers – Knight, Lane and Masterton – already owned Zone C Diving Championship bids in each discipline ahead of the Miami Invitational, but saw an opportunity in Oxford to earn higher marks and contest in a fresh field. Francetic owned one bid on the 1-meter springboard approaching the weekend, while Hudson looked to earn her first. Francetic took care of business in the Nixon Aquatic Center, clinching her second zone championship submission, charting a 295.20 in the 3-meter finals. From one meet to another, two Wildcats sought 2020 U.S. Olympic Team Trial cuts in the USA Swimming Winter Nationals – sophomore Bailey Bonnett and junior Ali Galyer. Junior Peter Wetzlar also competed, but as a Zimbabwe native he was ineligible to receive qualifying marks for the U.S. Olympic Team Trials. Like Knight and Masterton, Galyer produced a couple of stunning final-day performances, earning the top seed in the 200-meter backstroke preliminaries with a 2:10.97. Claiming lane four in the "A" finals, the junior clinched a third-overall finish with a 2:11.02. While Galyer has elected to swim for New Zealand in hopes of making their 2020 Olympic Team, two of her recorded times from Winter Nationals would have qualified for U.S. Olympic Team Trial cuts, including the 200-meter backstroke. Her first would have come in the 100-meter backstroke with her "A" finals time of 1:02.40. Along with the two backstroke distances, Galyer also swam the 400-meter freestyle. Bonnett competed in the 200-meter individual medley and the 100- and 200-meter breaststroke. The reigning SEC Female Freshman of the Year saw the only true U.S. Olympic Team Trial cut for the Wildcats, with a 2:32.08 in the 200-meter breaststroke in the "A" finals. Wetzlar saw action in the 50- and 100-meter freestyle and the 100-meter butterfly. He remarkably set a Zimbabwe record in the 50-meter freestyle with a 22.87 during a swim off for a "B" finals position, which he garnered. The junior from Zimbabwe has chosen to swim for his native country, therefore his swim-off time will not be considered by the United States for the U.S. Olympic Team Trial cuts. The Kentucky swimming and diving program will not compete in December, but will return to competition Jan. 4-5 in Gainesville, Florida, in a tri-meet versus Florida and Ohio State.

» LSU

At the Art Adamson Invitational, junior Matt Klotz was the highest placed finisher on the men's side, swimming the 50-yard freestyle in 19.77 seconds to finish in fourth place. With that swim, Klotz broke his own deaf-world record and is the first deaf swimmer to swim the 50-yard freestyle in under 20 seconds. That time also cracks the all-time list, as Klotz now has the ninth-fastest time in school history. Klotz had broken the world-record in the preliminaries as well, touching the wall at 19.82 seconds to reach the A-Final. On the women's side, Haylee Knight won the 50-yard freestyle and earned an NCAA 'B'-Cut in the process. Knight also won the 100-yard butterfly (52.17) and the 100-yard freestyle (48.24). At the UT Diving Invitational, Juan Celaya-Hernandez competed against some of the top divers in the nation, finishing fourth in both the preliminaries and finals of the men's one-meter springboard. The three-time

SEC champion finished the finals scoring 390.45. He took fourth overall in the 3-meter, scoring 389.05, and platform, scoring 412.70.. On the women's side, Lizzie Cui was the highest-placed finisher, coming in 14th overall after scoring 281.70. On the women's one-meter springboard, Cui executed a consistent list to score 318.20 and earn a bronze medal. Aimee Wilson led the women with a fourth-place finish on platform, scoring 246.85. Cui was right behind her in fifth place with a score of 240.25.

» Missouri

The Mizzou men's and women's swimming and diving teams swept the 2018 Mizzou Invite team titles after winning a combined 30 events during the three-day meet at the Mizzou Aquatic Center. The Tiger women scored 1,171 points to win the women's title ahead of 12 other programs. Arkansas placed second (714), San Diego State took third (636), Florida International was fourth (510) and BYU rounded out the top five (321). On the men's side, the Tigers totaled 1,410 points to take first among 11 total teams. BYU finished second (667), California Baptist was third (576), Drury fourth (467) and McKendree placed fifth (278). Over the three-day meet, the Tigers notched one school record (junior Nick Alexander in the 100 back), four NCAA automatic qualifying times (women's 200 free relay, men's 200 free relay, men's 400 free relay and men's 400 medley relay) and posted numerous personal bests. The Tigers opened Saturday finals with a sweep in the 1650 free races. Senior Courtney Evensen won the women's side with a personal best time of 16:09.08, two seconds faster than her old mark. She also set a new career best in the 1000 free, as she clocked a 9:44.45 in that portion of the race. On the men's side, senior Jacob Wielinski swam a 14:55.84 to take the victory. Junior Nick Alexander claimed his third win of the meet as he won the men's 200 back on Saturday. Alexander, who clocked a career best time of 1:39.98 in prelims, clocked a 1:40.31 in the evening session for first-place honors. Junior Jennifer King took home the 200 back win on the women's side, with a time of 1:53.67, just off her career best. It was another event sweep in the 200 breast, this time by a freshman and a senior. Freshman Kayla Jones had a big finals swim of 2:10.36, over two and a half seconds faster than her prelims time, and a personal best. Also with a career best swim was senior Jordan O'Brien, who won the men's 200 breast in 1:54.55. In the men's 100 free, senior Mikel Schreuders dropped a personal best time of 42.76 in finals for the win. He later lowered that again with a 42.30 in the leadoff leg of the 400 free relay. Juniors Azra Avdic and Micah Slaton both claimed top honors in the 200 fly races as well. Avdic held on for the win in the women's event with a 1:59.27, while Slaton posted a 1:43.30 to earn a victory on the men's side. Mizzou closed out the meet with an NCAA A cut in the men's 400 free relay, were Schreuders, junior Giovanni Lima and freshman Kyle Leach and Danny Kovac touched in 2:50.05. The Mizzou divers next compete at the International CAMO Invitational, Nov. 29-Dec. 2, in Montreal, Canada, while the swimmers are idle until January.

» South Carolina

The South Carolina women earned a fourth-place finish at the Georgia Tech Invitational with 593.5 points, while the men finished seventh with 438 points.
