2014 SEC EQUESTRIAN CHAMPIONSHIP

The 2014 Southeastern Conference Equestrian Championship, featuring the finest competition in collegiate equestrian, will take place this Friday and Saturday at One Wood Farm in Blythewood, S.C., hosted by the University of South Carolina.

All four SEC equestrian programs will participate in this weekend's event, and three of the teams are ranked among the nation's top-four. South Carolina is the No. 1 team in the NCEA team rankings, while Georgia is No. 2 and Auburn is No. 4.

Both competitions in Friday's semifinal round - top-seeded South Carolina vs. fourth-seeded Texas A&M and second-seeded Georgia vs. third-seeded Auburn - will begin at 10 a.m. ET. On Saturday, the consolation round begins at 9 a.m. ET, while the championship will commence at 1:40 p.m. ET.

Admission to the SEC Equestrian Championship is free. Parking will be available directly across the street from One Wood Farm in the Cobblestone Park neighborhood. Free shuttles will transport fans to and from the facility on both days. Gates at One Wood Farm will open one hour prior to competition each day.

Seeds for the SEC Equestrian Championship are determined by conference win percentage during the regular season. Each SEC equestrian team faces every other SEC team both home and away over the course of the regular season.

SEC EQUESTRIAN QUICK NOTES

- The 2013-14 campaign marks the second season of Southeastern Conference sponsorship of the sport of equestrian. At the SEC Spring Meetings in Destin, Fla., in 2012, the decision was made for equestrian to become the conference's 21st sport.
- Four members of the SEC - Auburn, Georgia, South Carolina and Texas A&M - currently sponsor equestrian. The four current members of the SEC are the only teams in the history of the sport to win NCEA Overall Team National Championships.
- South Carolina became the first-ever SEC Equestrian Champion in 2013, defeating Auburn 10-8 in the championship final hosted in Auburn, Ala.
- The 2014 SEC Equestrian Championships are slated to take place March 28-29 at One Wood Farm in Blythewood, S.C.
- Each SEC team will face every conference foe home and away during the regular season.
- Georgia has tallied a league-leading five overall NCEA national championships, including three consecutive from 2008-10. Auburn has won three national titles, while South Carolina and Texas A&M each have two overall national titles to their credit.
- Auburn is the defending NCEA overall team national champion, defeating Georgia in a ride-off at the 2013 NCEA National Championships in Waco, Texas.

TEAM-BY TEAM NOTES

AUBURN

The fourth-ranked Auburn equestrian team (9-4, 3-3 SEC) will be the No. 3 seed this weekend as it heads to the second-annual SEC Championship. Auburn is facing the Bulldogs for the third time this season. During the regular season the two teams split the competition with each squad winning in their home arena. Auburn hosted the event last year, making the championship round before falling to South Carolina for a second-place finish. Before equestrian became an officially recognized SEC sport Auburn, Georgia and South Carolina competed in the Southern Equestrian Championships for 10 years. Auburn teams experienced great success, winning titles in 2004, 2010 and 2011. Auburn hosted the inaugural SEC Equestrian Championship last year, where the Tigers captured seven MOP awards, more than any other team. The 2014 Tigers roster features six student-athletes who had already earned All-Americas honors, and then added one more to that list this week when the 2014 NCEA teams were announced. Four Auburn student-athletes garnered NCEA All-America honors this year with Demi Stiegler and Christina Lin taking home accolades in equitation over fences and Stephanie Rucci and Griffin Knight in reining. Along with Stiegler, Lin, Rucci and Knight, the Tigers' Elizabeth Benson, Jennifer Waxman and Cheyenne Cracraft also have All-America honors to their name. Junior hunt seat rider Demi Stiegler has 11 wins this season in equitation over fences. She is just two wins away from being the sole record holder in the event in Auburn history. Earlier this season, senior Jennifer Waxman broke the career record for all-time wins in fences and enters the championships with 35 career victories. In equitation in the flat, Christina Lin became the all-time Auburn wins leader with 36.

GEORGIA

The No. 2 Georgia equestrian is set to take part in the Southeastern Conference Championship this weekend in Blythewood, S.C. The Bulldogs enter the weekend as the No. 2 seed, after riding to an overall record of 9-3 that includes a 4-2 mark in SEC action. Georgia has not competed since the beginning of March when it defeated then-No. 5 New Mexico State 17-3. Georgia was led by its Hunt Seat squad who posted a 10-0 sweep over the Aggies. The Bulldogs got strong performances by Kylee Arbuckle and Paige Stawicki in the meets, as each went on to earn SEC Rider of the Month honors. The Bulldogs also got word this week they combined for seven NCEA All-American honors. Liza Finsness led the Bulldogs after being named a First Team All-American in Equitation on the Flat and a Second Team All-American in Equitation Over Fences. Heather Schmidt was named a Second Team All-American in Reining, while McKenzie Lantz earned Second Team All-American honors in Reining. Olivia Dorey (Equitation on the Flat), Abby O'Mara (Equitation Over Fences) and Rachel Kolb (Horsemanship) were Honorable Mentions on the All-American teams in their respective events.

SOUTH CAROLINA

South Carolina enters this year's SEC Championship with the No. 1 ranking in the country... The Gamecocks just wrapped up their best regular season in team history, going 11-2 overall and 4-2 in conference action... Carolina is hosting the 2014 SEC Equestrian Championship at its facility, One Wood Farm in Blythewood, S.C... The Gamecocks will face Texas A&M in the semifinal round on Friday, March 29 and 10 a.m. ET... The Aggies defeated the Gamecocks, 10-9, during the fall, and Texas A&M is the only team that has outscored Carolina this season... Junior Katherine Schmidt earned her fifth and sixth career All-America honors from the National Collegiate Equestrian Association on Tuesday, picking up First Team honors in both equitation over fences and equitation on the flat... Schmidt leads the Gamecocks with a 21-2-1 overall record... On Wednesday, Schmidt was named SEC Rider of the Month (equitation over fences) for the second time this season and for the third time in her career... Senior Jordan Brown was named SEC Rider of the Month (reining) after going 2-0 earlier in the month with a pair of MVPs.

TEXAS A&M

The fourth-seeded Texas A&M equestrian team heads to the Southeastern Conference Championships in Blythewood, S.C. this weekend, facing No. 1 seed South Carolina in the Friday morning semifinals. The Aggies enter the postseason with a 2-8 record overall and a 1-5 mark in conference action. Texas A&M most recently fell to No. 3 Oklahoma State, 11-9, while debuting the team's new home, the Thomas G. Hildebrand DVM '56 Equine Center. Junior Laura Sumrall was selected to the National Collegiate Equestrian Association (NCEA) Honorable Mention All-America team, after leading the Texas A&M reining squad with an 8-2 record on the year and a 5-1 tally against SEC opponents. Junior Paige Linne was selected to represent the Aggies on the SEC Equestrian Community Service Team, displaying the true Aggie Spirit with her volunteer attitude.

SEC COACHING TREE

Despite the Southeastern Conference being in just its second year of sponsoring equestrian as a conference sport, the four programs of the SEC have a rich history of placing former varsity letter-winners in the coaching profession.

Currently, 11 former student-athletes from the four SEC equestrian programs serve as coaches within NCEA programs across the country.
