Senior Defensive Back Deshazor Everett

On how the defense plans on improving this season

"We've got to play better, that's all we can take from it. To give up as many points as we did as a defense is embarrassing. We're definitely going to come out stronger this year."

On playing in the newly-renovated Kyle Field this year

"Kyle Field is going to be a lot larger than it was, which will give us a lot more support from the twelfth man. They've been amazing in the past, and making the stadium bigger will make it that much more amazing."

On what the defense is focusing on to improve

"It's definitely not making the defense simpler, it's understanding the game. That's what coach has taken the time to do-explain things to us. With the younger players, he explains to them why the guy next to them is doing what he's doing and why they need to do their job. It all sort of works together."

On how different the offense looks this year without Johnny Manziel

"It's still a great offense. Johnny was a playmaker, but now Kyle Allen is making plays, Kenny Hill is making plays. We have receivers on both the outside and the slot catching balls. We have running backs busting it up the middle. Really, that's all we can ask for, for the offense to keep ticking and as a defense we're going to get better."

On how much better the defense is capable of becoming

"If we play the way we believe we can play, we will be a lot better."
