Arkansas Defensive End Trey Flowers

On what played a part in his decision to come back to Arkansas this year

“Just knowing where this program is going. I knew under Coach Brett Bielema and the guys he put around him as far as the staff, we’re taking this program to a winning season. Just me helping out, I understand what we’ve been through the last two years. From my freshman year having an 11-win season, I understand what it takes to win. Just coming back to be a leader and help my team win is what it was.”

On the difficulties and challenges faced from having 4 coordinators in 4 years

“I want to make it a positive. If I can learn 4 defenses in 4 years it shows how coachable I am and the different schemes that I’m accustomed to. But the challenge we face is the terminology. It’s all defense, we’re all stopping the offense, but how you communicate with each other is probably the biggest challenge.”

On some of the other defensive ends that have stood out in summer workouts

“You’ve got Deatrich Wise, Brandon Lewis, JaMichael Winston. Those guys have come a long way and I feel that they are mature mentally. They understand it’s going to take them to help us win, them stepping in that role and being able to play. You can see it in their work ethic and how they prepare.”
