Junior Linebacker Skai Moore

On what will make the defense better this year

“Just trusting in Jon Hokes’ new scheme that is in place and being able to run to the ball and be the first person to the ball, have that intensity. Intensity and just trusting in the coach’s scheme is probably going to be the biggest thing this year.”

On the important of the North Carolina game

“It is very important. Just to build off our confidence and to show that we do have the ability to be a top defense in the country. That’s all going to start the first weekend at Carolina.

On the new 4-3 scheme effecting him as a linebacker

“I definitely agree with that. I have two great linebackers with me on the field, Jon Walton and Bryson Allen (Williams). Being able to run an anchor in the middle of the field is going to help me a lot as well.”

On his role within the defense of the team

“Definitely, talking to the new young guys coming in, not making them feel nervous or anything. Letting them know that it is football at the end of the day. I can attest to that because I was in their shoes not too long ago. They definitely look to me for some guidance and advice when it comes to playing early and I’m glad to give it to them.”
