FLORIDA COACH KEVIN O'SULLIVAN

Opening Statement ...

"It's not on the players. At the end of the day, we just need to get back to who we were. Ultimately, anything negative that happens on the field is my responsibility. This is not on the players. Looking back at the Mississippi State series, we were leading in the seventh and gave it up in the bullpen. That doesn't happen, so there was a bit of a shock factor. Then, (Brady) Singer was going to start the game, and he comes up with a hamstring. We fell behind early. We played a good game three, down a run going into the eighth inning, but then we hadn't given up runs like that all year. It was a combination of things happening that hadn't happened to us before. We didn't play well against LSU, but we found a way to win. Obviously, yesterday was a tough day for us. It's my responsibility to put these guys in a position to be successful. It's just been such a good season. These types of things happen, and they are unfortunate. There were a couple things that factored into it, and that goes all the way back to the Mississippi State series. We have a really good team, and we can't let a couple things affect us. We need to get going again, and it's my responsibility to get these guys going. We certainly will."
