Florida finished in second place at the 2019 SEC Gymnastics Championship with a 197.75, runner-up to LSU, who finished with a 197.90.

The top balance beam total was a meet record 49.625 by the Gators. Florida finished with a vault total 49.275.

Freshman Trinity Thomas hit a collegiate-best 9.95 for the second consecutive meet to win vault.

Five shared the balance beam title at 9.95, including three Gators. Sophomore Alyssa Baumann won her second consecutive SEC beam title, becoming the first to win beam in consecutive seasons since Georgia's Kim Arnold won a share of the 1997 and 1998 SEC titles. Junior Rachel Govey returned from a four-meet layoff from beam competition to equal her collegiate-best for the third time. Sophomore Megan Skaggs raised her collegiate best to 9.95 to win beam.

The Gators head to Corvallis, Ore., for April 5-6 NCAA Regional Gymnastics Championships. Florida will compete against Oregon State, Stanford and either Iowa or Arizona in Session II on Friday, April 5 at 10 p.m. ET. The Gators will begin their rotation on vault as they seek their 37th NCAA Championships berth.

*All Times Central; SEC Meet 1- Mardi Gras Invitational (St. Charles, Mo.)

The third-ranked LSU gymnastics capture its third-straight SEC Championship with a team score of 197.900 on March 23 inside the Smoothie King Center.

Senior gymnast Sarah Finnegan clinched the title with a perfect 10.0 score on floor to finish off the win. Finnegan won her second-straight SEC all-around title with a 39.800, the second-highest in the meet's history. The Lee's Summit, Missouri, native became the fourth gymnast in SEC history to win two all-around titles. With the win, Finnegan earned her 12th all-around title of the season and passed Susan Jackson for the most in a season in school history.

In addition to the all-around win, Finnegan also earned the bars, beam and floor titles. Finnegan claimed her 25th beam title and passed April Burkholder for the most in a career in school history. Finnegan scored a 9.95 on both bars and beam.

LSU was selected as the top seed in the Baton Rouge Regional and will compete for one of two spots in the NCAA Championships April 5-6. The Regional will begin on April 4 with the first round featuring No. 8 George Washington and No. 9 Lindenwood. The winner will advance to the second round on April 5. The afternoon session of round two will begin at 2 p.m. CT and will feature No. 6 Utah, No. 11 Minnesota, BYU and Arkansas.

The evening session will begin at 7 p.m. CT and will include the top-seed Tigers, No. 14 Auburn, Arizona State and the winner of the first round. As the No. 1 seed in the regional, LSU will compete in Olympic order. If the Tigers finish first in the second round they will start on beam in the regional final and if they finish second then the squad will open on vault.

The NCAA Regional berth marks the 36th overall and 35th straight for the program. LSU owns 29 NCAA Championships appearances and 15 regional titles, including eight straight. This marks the 11th time LSU has hosted a regional and the first time since 2014.

The No. 19 Mizzou gymnastics team scored a 195.900 to finish eighth at the 2019 SEC Championship, held on March 23 at the Smoothie King Center in New Orleans, La.

Missouri opened strong in the first rotation, notching a 49.125 on beam. All six Tigers reached the 9.8 mark on floor to boost the squad to a 49.250 on the event in the second rotation. In the third rotation, Mizzou totaled a 48.675 on vault. The Tigers closed the session with a 48.850 on bars in the fourth rotation.

Mizzou will travel to Athens, Ga., to compete in the 2019 NCAA Athens Regional on Friday, April 5 at 1 p.m. CT at Stegeman Coliseum.

Missouri will compete in the first round afternoon session against No. 8 Georgia, No. 9 Kentucky and No. 22 Iowa State, while No. 1 Oklahoma, No. 15 California, Maryland and the winner of April 4's North Carolina State and New Hampshire play-in meet go in the evening session. The top two finishers in each session advance to the Regional second round on Saturday, April 6 at 6 p.m. CT, and the top two finishers from the second round will move on to the 2019 NCAA Championships.

As the third-seed in the afternoon session, the Tigers will open competition on floor, then rotate to vault, bars and end on beam.

Mizzou concluded the regular season ranked 19th in the national rankings with a national qualifying score of 196.385. The squad scored over 196 six times in 2019, including a season-high 196.800 on March 15. Missouri also stands as one of only five teams nationally with a 49 or higher on floor every meet this season, joining No. 2 UCLA, No. 4 Florida, No. 6 Utah and No. 15 Oregon State.
