

SEC Council on Racial Equity and Social Justice

(Revised: August 25, 2020)

Established in July 2020, the SEC Council on Racial Equity and Social Justice is comprised of a diverse group of representatives from across the 14 SEC campuses and organized into panels. It provides ongoing guidance to the SEC office and its members while identifying resources, outlining strategies and assisting with implementation of efforts that promote racial equity and social justice.

Student-Athlete Involvement (by Sport)

Lead – Misty Brown, Director of Student-Athlete Engagement

- Student-athletes will participate utilizing existing SEC football, men’s and women’s basketball and student-athlete advisory councils to minimize time demands while maximizing student-athlete input (see lists below).
- Racial equity and social justice will be standing agenda items during all leadership and advisory council meetings, and councilors from other panels will participate to share information and learn what questions and concerns exist for student-athletes.
- Leadership and advisory council chairs, vice chairs and/or other identified student-athletes will participate in SEC Council meetings.
